

The Classic Program

What Is the Classic Sanctuary Program?

The Classic Program falls between Audubon International's Cooperative Sanctuary Programs (for existing land uses) and the Signature Program (which works with projects in the planning stage of development through construction and long-term management). The Classic Program is based upon Audubon International's experience with the Signature Program, taking into account that properties in it will already have been developed for certain uses and might to some extent be constrained by the prior development. The Classic Program takes an approach that is flexible and adaptable to almost any type of property, including redevelopment or restoration projects, in any country.

Who Should Consider Enrolling in the Classic Program?

Owners and managers of properties of existing land uses that are interested in joining a program of similar rigor to our Signature Program (for new developments) are encouraged to enroll in the Classic Program. Properties or projects of any type undergoing redevelopment or restoration while maintaining the same use, or projects that are too far along into construction for membership in the Audubon International Signature Program (for new developments) may also consider enrolling. The program is also open to projects and individuals interested in recognition for environmental stewardship for a completed project they believe will meet standards for operation and maintenance.

What's Involved in the Program?

A member of the Classic Program must meet minimum program requirements applicable to all members, plus any additional site-specific requirements identified by Audubon International. In the process of seeking certification, it must host several site visits, submit monthly project progress reports, and implement a Classic Program Management Plan developed by qualified environmental consultants as well as meet standards equivalent to the Signature Program for maintenance facilities. Certification is subject to passing a final on-site audit of the property. Costs: Registration fee ($4,500), site visit travel expenses, and annual membership fee ($500). The cost of the biennial re-certification site visit is $800 plus travel expenses.

Spring City Golf and Lake Resort is a 36-hole golf facility located on the shores of Yang Zhong Hai Lake about an hour from Kunming, China. The 18-hole mountain course was designed by Jack Nicklaus and opened in 1996. The 18-hole lakeside course was designed by Robert Trent Jones II and opened in 1999. Spring City was certified as a Classic Sanctuary in 2010.

Our Adaptive, Results-Based Approach

A 27-hole golf facility on 156 acres of the 475 acre rain forest resort, Ria Bintan is located in a tropical climate and receives 140 inches of rain a year. In October 2010, Ria Bintan became the first Certified Classic Sanctuary in Indonesia. Designed by Gary Player, the 18-hole Ocean Course and the first nine holes of the 18-hole Forest Course opened for play in October 1998 and December 2000 respectively.
